CrewStar SHOOTS - Crew Booking Services

Why use CrewStar SHOOTS?

CrewStar SHOOTS, a division of Media Services, has been a leader in global production team resourcing since 1994. With budgets becoming even tighter, producers must be more cost conscious than ever. Hiring a reputable local crew through an experienced agency can help you avoid costly airfare, per diems, and housing costs. But that's only part of the savings. You will save time and money with a crew that speaks the local language and knows the local market, customs, and best practices.

Whether you are on a four-day commercial shoot in Dubai, filming a TV pilot in the Carolinas, or taping the World Summit in Helsinki, using an experienced crew booking agency to assemble the right team can be the best investment you can make to help assure the success of your project.

We serve clients ranging from media departments of Fortune 500 companies and communications firms to the industry's top commercial, film, and television producers, as well as independents.
